Red Cross

Our Red Cross council here is a small branch of a world-wide organization. As far back as one can remember, Room 119 has always been full of boys and girls busily engaged in Red Cross work. Some are cutting out jokes for veterans in the Hines Hospital, some are filing stamps to be sold for the purchase of hospital beds, and still others are painting jars to be used as vases. Packages are made up to be sent to our boys who are prisoners of war in foreign countries. All pitch in and help, for you are always welcome there at any free period in the day. There are never enough workers and the job is never finished. Today with the world at war, there is more to do than ever.

Of course, during all this activity, there is a science class going on. It sounds remarkable, but Miss Hennessey, the teacher and sponsor, is a remarkable person; so much so, in fact, that the Distinguished Service Bar of the American Red Cross was awarded to her in March for her notable service.
